At first I would like to thank all of colleagues who help us to provide and approve of Arvand Journal of Health & Medical Sciences. I am delighted to welcome you to the first issue of The AJHMS. The purpose of the launch of AJHMS is access to the latest achievements in the fields of prevention diagnosis and treatment of diseases. Epidemiology and health services management policies are the other desired fields. AJHMS is a multidisciplinary journal that its audience is researchers in different fields of medicine and health. Expert and international editorial board members of AJHMS play an important role in the organization of sectors and issues of the Journal. The expert reviewer and editorial board members from the entire world are welcome to cooperate with Arvand Journal of Health & Medical Sciences. I believe that AJHMS shall growth and satisfy researchers by publishing high quality documents.
